

Stories of faith, hope and love from the Far East Broadcasting Company.
Until all have heard.

When disaster happens, sound quality is key.

Broadcasting from a 'suitcase studio' in Cianjur, Indonesia.

Just before the recent earthquake in Cianjur, you and FEBC New Zealand upgraded the First Response Radio equipment in Indonesia. Thank you for saving lives.

When the earthquake struck that city on Java, our First Response Indonesia team (FRI) leapt to action, gathering equipment, and preparing to deploy. Their mission is to set up an emergency broadcast station within 72 hours of a disaster, and broadcast life-saving information to the affected community. They can do this quickly because they are trained broadcasting professionals, and because their equipment is up to date and working well.

Your support of FEBC New Zealand has ensured that FEBC Indonesia and the First Response team are trained and equipped so that people impacted by earthquakes, volcanos and tsunamis, are lovingly guided to life-saving resources, and comforted in their distress.

Your Impact:

In 2022 you and FEBC New Zealand provided $27,728 to upgrade the studios of two FM stations and the First Response equipment. The picture (above) is Jose Marwan, head of FRI. Just before the Cianjur earthquake Jose had renewed the computers used for programme production, the mobile communications equipment, plus the headphones, microphones and vital gear that ensures our broadcasts are loud and clear. The 'thumbs-up' is Jose telling us that we are on-air, and thousands of people are hearing the broadcasts clearly.

Please pray for our teams, broadcasts, and audiences in Indonesia: for clear signals and faithful listening. To support this work, donate to 'Indonesia,' 'First Response,' or 'Where Most Needed.' Thank you.

Lampung Indonesia studio also upgraded with NZ funds.

Ukraine Crisis Update: Where tragedy is all around.

FEBC Ukraine has not retreated in any way during this invasion. In fact, we have expanded our FM network, our counselling ministry, and our chaplaincy partnerships in order to reach and care for Ukrainians, and all people wounded by the war.

Since the start of the war, FEBC Ukraine has added new stations in Kyiv and Zaporizhzhia, and expanded the telephone counselling to include online facilities. Another area of ministry expansion has been to our Army chaplaincy partnerships. Equipping chaplains to serve has meant thousands of soldiers and frontline volunteers now listen to our life-giving hope-filled programmes, and thousands have received counselling and prayer.

Vadim (pictured right) was a volunteer chaplain from Mykolaivka and served with FEBC distributing radios and counselling contact cards. Vadim was killed in late 2022. Victor Akhterov, FEBC Eurasia Director, said:

“We minister from that place, where suffering is just next to us, where we are losing friends, where tragedy is all around us, especially with our listeners. We hear their voices, we experience their pain as we minister the love of Jesus.”

“We are hard pressed on every side, but not crushed; perplexed, but not in despair; persecuted, but not abandoned; struck down, but not destroyed.”

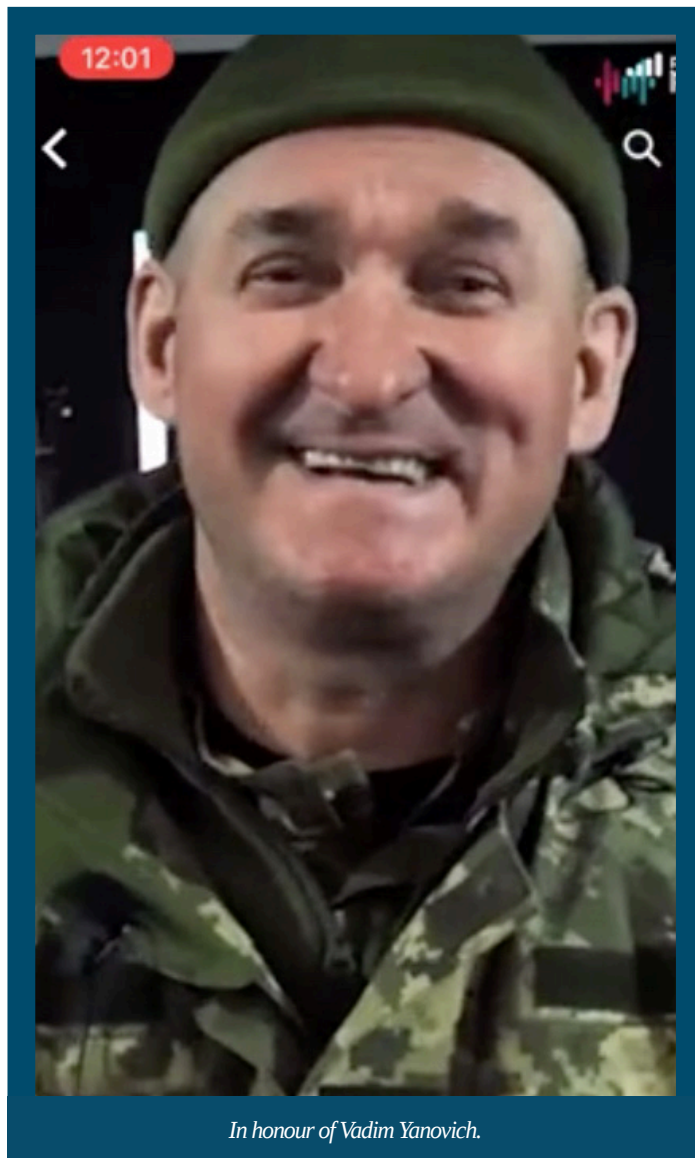

2 Corinthians 4:8-9

Our Ukraine team identify with the truth and hope of this text. Life and ministry in a war zone is very hard work. The pressure can be exhausting and painful, but they rejoice that they are not crushed, and ask for prayer and support to stay standing strong under these dreadful conditions.

Your Impact:

In 2022, together we raised more than $100,000 to support FEBC Ukraine. Funds were sent for Staff support, Electricity, Technical support to keep stations on-air, and for the Counselling ministry.

The whole team send their sincere appreciation to you. You have comforted many. Thank you.

Strengthening youth in Cambodia.

“My name is Chhan from Takeo Province in Cambodia. I am 17 in year 12. I am so grateful to God for loving me. As a follower of Jesus Christ, I am alone in my family and friends. They are not Christians and I get a lot of bullying. FEBC radio guides me and strengthens me with the programmes aimed at people my age. Thank you Krusa FM.”

FEBC New Zealand is proud to be the principal sponsor of a new first-of-its-kind Mobile Studio vehicle in Cambodia. The future studio-in-a-van will visit towns in the provinces and produce live programmes with young Cambodians like Chhan. This will be especially for social media and aim to bring biblical insights to under 30s. To read more and support, visit febc.nz/Cambodia/

Your Impact: So far you and FEBC New Zealand have contributed $48,580 towards this project. (Total needed $160,000). Thank you.

Millions of opportunities in India.

“Chengathi” means ‘friend’ in the Indian language of Malayalam, and thanks to your support, Feba India is producing fresh new programmes to reach some of the 35,100,000 speakers of this people group. Our new outreach spots play on India’s national radio called All India Radio, one of the largest networks in the world.

The government is allowing Feba (FEBC) to use the religious timeslot, so we are making the most of this opportunity while it exists. We also broadcast outreach spots in Tamil (78,487,000 speakers), Kannada (45,746,000 speakers), and Telugu (96,585,000 speakers).

Your Impact: In 2022 you and FEBC New Zealand contributed $29,460 to train local programme producers for various languages, produce new outreach programmes, and to train new follow-up teams to interact with listeners around the country.

Meet Leana.

Hi I'm Leana Mostert, the newest on staff at FEBC New Zealand. I'm the Administrator & Supporter Relations Officer, so when you call, I'm usually on the other end of the phone.

My husband, Danie, our two children and I moved to New Zealand in 2019 from South Africa. I am a trained legal secretary and I'm very happy to be using my training to serve in a Christian ministry. I made the move to FEBC so I could help spread the Word of God by media, and to grow in whatever way the Lord wants of me. Please say 'Hi' if you make contact with us.

Receipts in 2023.

Please note that from 1st April 2023 your receipt will be emailed to you if we have your email address. This will save printing and postage. To provide your email address or to make other arrangements, please call 0800 433 226 or contact financial@febc.nz

Stay on Mission.

A biblical devotion to inspire passion for Jesus and prayers for the nations.

This month's scripture is Luke 15:1-7 The parable of the Lost Sheep.

This devotional is a New Testament example of how God loves and pursues us. Here are three principles and prayer points for our life and mission today:

1. Jesus attracts imperfect people.

Those who gathered to actually listen, and hear the words of Jesus, were often those looked down on by the elite. Tax collectors and "sinners" indicates the kind of people who were well aware of their imperfection. Pray that people tune in to FEBC stations and hear how loved and accepted they are by God, no matter how inadequate.

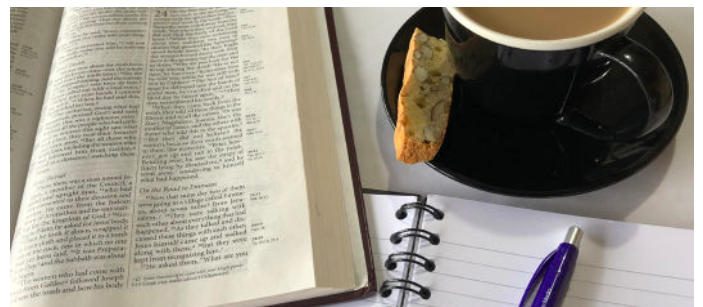

2. Jesus is relentless in searching for lost people.

The parable tells us that the shepherd goes after the lost sheep "until he finds it." And he brings it home "when he finds it..." Not if he finds it. Those who have strayed away or been enticed away from life with God, can expect to be pursued by our unrelenting Lord. Pray that listeners respond positively to the programmes sooner rather than later.

3. Heaven rejoices when the lost return.

Joy is the hallmark of heaven, unlike muttering which is a hallmark of the self-righteous. Jesus calls the church to "Rejoice with me" when people repent and return to living faith and fellowship. Pray that listeners change their thinking because of the programmes, and that Christians joyfully participate in this ministry.

Kia kaha, take courage,
Matt Perry @kiwihub
